Vision Statement
Our vision is for Cypress Hills to be a home for neighbors of all backgrounds working together for an affordable, clean, safe and vibrant neighborhood. Cypress Hills can be a community where children are nurtured and receive an education that stimulates creativity, develops self-esteem and leads to success in college and the workforce. Our community can have affordable, sustainable housing and a thriving commercial strip. We are committed to a Cypress Hills where people find and keep living wage jobs, buy and maintain their homes and invest in building local businesses. All of our neighbors can feel pride in Cypress Hills and join together to build powerful grassroots institutions and movements to achieve this vision.

Mission Statement
With community residents leading the way, the mission of CHLDC is to build a strong, sustainable Cypress Hills and East New York, where youth and adults achieve educational and economic success, secure affordable housing and develop leadership skills to transform their lives and community.

2015 Board of Directors
Harold Green, President
Marisol Quiñones, Vice President
Sylvia Stovell, Secretary
Lamont Lawes, Treasurer
Florence Charles
R.D. Gentzler
Ivelisse Gonzalez
Melodye Harvey
Michael Lawes
Clarisa Rodriguez
Mirian Rodriguez
Aless Sanchez
Amory Sanchez
Teresa Toro
Jason Villodas

Staff Leadership
Michelle Neugebauer, Executive Director
Rob Abbot, Director of Youth and Family Services
Rene Arlain, Director of Housing Counseling
Emily Blank, Director of Planning and Development
Joseph Brown, Director of Human Resources
Ismael DaSilva, Director of Finance
Lowell Herschberger, Director of Career and Education Programs
Elizabeth Kahn, Director of College Success Programs
Shai Lauros, Director of Community Development
Erica Oquendo, Assistant Division Director of Youth and Family Services
Basil Reyes, Director of Evaluation and Research
Brian Santiago, Director of Cypress Hills Promise Neighborhood
Julia Watt-Rosenfeld, Director of Community Organizing and Advocacy
Emily Van Ingen, Director of Programs
Noelle Van Der Tuin, Assistant Division Director of Youth and Family Services
Dear Friends,

We've had an eventful and successful year in Cypress Hills with many accomplishments, which I am pleased to share with you in this report.

Our programming continues to change the lives of 10,000 community members a year, and keeps growing! Our College Success Programs now support over 1,600 students a year in their quest for a college degree, through a peer counseling model. Our CHAMPS Network, which offers a new model of workforce development through partnership with local employers and investment in program participants, has also expanded. We are proud of these innovative ways that we're helping residents to earn college degrees and build their careers.

This year, we will continue to prepare the neighborhood for coming change as a rezoning initiative draws closer, advocating for expanded affordable housing for residents and policies to prevent displacement of our neighbors and small businesses. We are adamant that current community members must be able to remain in Cypress Hills and experience the results of their dedicated efforts to make their community the best that it can be. We have made tremendous headway in recent months and our momentum continues to build.

We are looking forward to another exciting and rewarding year. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
Michelle Neugebauer
Executive Director

We provide services to more than 10,000 Cypress Hills/East New York residents annually. Our programs strengthen the area's physical and economic infrastructure, provide quality educational and social services, and foster local leaders.

Economic Opportunity - This year we helped 123 people ages 17-24 gain employment, placing them on the path for professional success. We are committed not just to helping young people get jobs, but to sustaining their employment, and are proud that 82% of our participants have retained their employment for at least three months, compared to the typical 73% rate for similar programs (The Benchmarking Project, 2013 report). Our partnerships with employers enhance our efforts, deepening community ties and giving local businesses a stake in developing the local workforce.

Affordable Housing - We completed Cypress Village, which added 29 rental units of sustainable, affordable housing to our community. Over 100 low-income community members now have an affordable, green, attractive place to call home. We also helped 23 families purchase their first home. One of them was Aaisha Kahn. "The process with CHLDC was perfect - super-helpful," Aaisha says. "It is a very satisfying feeling to have a house. It's huge. It's gorgeous. I love the block I live on. I love my home."

Youth Development – We help young people from middle school through college to make choices which set them on the path to success. At our Middle School Student Success Center, students at IS 171 help their peers apply to public high schools. Before our MSSSC existed, just 21% of IS 171 students entered high schools with graduation rates of 75% or higher. Last year, that number jumped to 48%. This includes competitive high schools like Bard Early College High School, Brooklyn Tech and the Brooklyn Latin School. Our college access staff and Youth Leaders helped 304 students get into college, and we now serve over 500 students through College Persistence, where college students work as peer counselors supporting other graduates of our College Access programming to stay enrolled in college and succeed, persisting to graduation.

Community Development - Our Cypress Hills Verde initiative, which aims to make our neighborhood greener, healthier, and more sustainable, has expanded. We opened the Pitkin-Verde Farmers’ Market, and added two new community gardens. Pitkin Verde, along with our Youth Market, and community gardens expand neighborhood access to affordable, healthy food.

Shoppers at Pitkin Verde can buy fresh produce from local farmers at affordable prices.

Leadership – We help local residents to develop as leaders, invested in the future of their community and working together for positive change. This year, members of Future of Tomorrow, our student organizing group at the Lane High School campus, spoke in front of the City Council about the consequences of harsh disciplinary codes for students, raising awareness around restorative practices in schools. After their day of testimony, the City Council increased their budget for restorative justice programs in schools to $2.4 million, FOT also hosted workshops with school safety agents and teachers to open a dialogue about how to improve their schools. Partnering with school safety agents is a groundbreaking step in establishing restorative practices and a culture of positive discipline at the Lane campus.

The Rezone: We have mobilized residents to prepare for a city-led rezoning initiative in East New York, which will change regulations around what kind of buildings will be constructed. The rezoning will lead to significant population growth in our area, and may threaten the ability of low-income residents to stay in their homes if housing costs rise. The Coalition for Community Advancement: Progress for East New York/Cypress Hills is a group of non-profit organizations, houses of worship, small businesses and residents. We have worked with other coalition members to develop an Alternative Plan, which lays out what our community needs to thrive during and after the rezone and continue to be a neighborhood of opportunity for all of its residents. The Plan calls for more deeply affordable housing, policies to prevent displacement of current residents, local economic development initiatives, and new infrastructure and community resources. We have begun to see the results of our efforts, with the city recently committing to funding 3,200 units of deeply affordable housing in the neighborhood and a new public school. As the rezoning process progresses, we will continue to meet these issues head on and make sure neighborhood residents’ voices are heard.

Cypress Village has given over 100 community members a new place to call home.

Isaiah and Shaquine, Building Works Graduates, Class of 2015

"Building Works showed me what the day-to-day life in the carpentry industry would be like. I want to be involved in it." - Isaiah (l)

"My next step is to join the union." - Shaquine (r)

A young Cypress Hills resident rallies for her community in Highland Park. Photo credit: Maria Belford